

Sign up to take part in health research

You could help our researchers develop new treatments and medicines

The NIHR BioResource is a panel of people who are interested in participating in research studies.

More than 100,000 volunteers around England already take part.

They come from all walks of life, some have health conditions but others don't.

They've helped in studies investigating diseases like cancer, dementia, diabetes and multiple sclerosis, plus many more.

It won't take too much of your time and you can be sure that however small your contribution, you will be helping health and medical research.

Why I volunteered

"I have close family and friends who have MS and Parkinson's, and I want to help researchers find better treatments and even a cure."

"Volunteering was really easy and didn't take much time at all. The researchers try to work around when I'm available."

Aidan, 19

To find out more:

 UHS.Bioresource@nhs.net

 023 8120 4989

 www.bioresource.nihr.ac.uk